Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9 - 22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Miscellaneous

Amended claim 22 has been renumbered - -Claim 23- -.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 9 – 12, 15, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bruce et al. (US 6,765,998 B2).

Regarding claim 9, Bruce et al. teaches providing road construction information to vehicle on-board telematics systems comprising at least one vehicle telemetric system displaying map information (col. 1, lines 18 – 48; col. 6, line 66 – col. 7, line 18 at least); a central information gathering location for gathering road construction information for vehicle routes supplied by an agency (14) and providing such information to the telematics system from the central location and displaying the information along with the map information (col. 9, lines 21 – 57 at least).

Regarding claims 10 – 12, Bruce et al.'s system is wireless and uses wireless means that is a cellular telephone in a local area network (fig. 1; col. 3, lines 52 – 65; col. 5, lines 61 – 67; col. 6, line 66 – col. 4 and col. 8, lines 42 – 64 at least).

Regarding claims 15 and 16, Bruce et al. charges a fee for the information (element 12 is a subscriber which inherently receives service for a fee; col. 3, lines 18 – 24, 47 – 49; and col. 4, lines 54 – 59 at least).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13, 14, and 17 – 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bruce et al. ('998) in view of Desai et al. (US 5,862,509).

As discussed above, Bruce teaches all of the limitations except for the information containing information of affected lanes and times.

However, Desai teaches, in the same field of endeavor of system providing road construction information, information which contains information on affected lanes and times (col. 3, line 44 – col. 4, line 13 and col. 8, lines 58 – 67 at least).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the times of the invention to have modified Bruce's teaching by including information containing information of affected lanes and times as evidenced by Desai in order to optimize trip planning.
